CONGREGATION
NEVEH SHALOM

A Special Note About This Year's HHD Services

On Rosh Hashanah, we come together as a community to reflect on the year that was and celebrate the possibilities ahead. To enhance both that sense of togetherness and also the energy and ruach of our services, we will once again be having a combined Shacharit service on Rosh Hashanah Day 1.

We will gather in the main sanctuary at 8:30am as our teens lead us in communal prayer. At 9:45am, we'll have a coffee and honey cake break. We hope this will allow everyone some precious moments to reconnect with friends and family. At 10:00am sharp, the Torah service and Musaf will begin in two locations, the Main Sanctuary and Birnbach Hall.

In addition, we will be offering a parallel Kol Nidre service on October 8, led by Rabbi Posen and Cantor Megdal

We are always looking for ways to enhance social opportunities and the quality of our communal prayer. We look forward to hearing how you experience this new opportunity and wish you a sweet and happy year.

Rabbi Greeting

When We All Stand as One

The Yamim Noraim are filled with tremendous significance as evinced by full sanctuaries. Whether we attend services regularly, or only on special occasions, at the Jewish New Year, we feel a definite desire to be together, sit with family, see old friends, and get right with ourselves or God. There is an unmistakable power that results from so many of us convening in one place.

Besides attendance, High Holiday services feel different. They are longer. Many of the prayers are less familiar. Some choreography is also different, as in the Aleynu prayer that is part of the Musaf Amidah. This is the one time of the year that some Jews fully prostrate themselves on the ground. Originally, Aleynu was only recited on the High Holidays. By the middle ages, Aleynu was inserted to conclude every service. Once it became a daily prayer, the custom of lying down was replaced by the more familiar act of bowing.

Another piece of choreography that is different is how often we stand. Sometimes it seems like there is no explanation, as when we need to sit and straight away stand again—for example when the ark is closed and immediately reopened. To some degree, that is correct—there are no rules or laws for these ark openings. But there is a guiding rubric. According to Dr. Rabbi Max Arzt, the ark was opened whenever a special prayer was inserted into the regular liturgy.

To understand this, recall that the basic structure of a Jewish prayer service is the same for any service throughout the year. What distinguishes services are additional insertions. During the High Holidays, these are usually “piyutim,” special poems that convey themes or lessons of the New Year. It became customary to open the ark as a sign of the special status of these liturgical poems. If the ark is open, we stand. When two piyutim follow in a row, the ark is closed for a moment before being immediately reopened.

While some quip that these are Jewish calisthenics, there is something powerful in the way that we all stand as one. It symbolizes our unity of purpose. We are indeed one people and one congregation. Kulam Agudah Echat. As one people, we are committed to inclusiveness.

Symbols matter. It’s thus appropriate that there is another way we will all be “standing as one” this year. Our movement’s mahzor, or High Holiday prayerbook, has to serve many different congregations. As a result, there are places where you will notice [black bracketed words]. These brackets refer to our matriarchs or occasionally all humanity; it is our movement’s way of recognizing the contributions of a class of people who didn’t always end up in recorded Jewish history.

In the past, we have not included those bracketed words. This year, we will do so. That does mean there might be momentary changes of “rhythm” to which we will need to adjust. The power of us being an agudah echat, however, takes precedence as we celebrate our 150th anniversary.

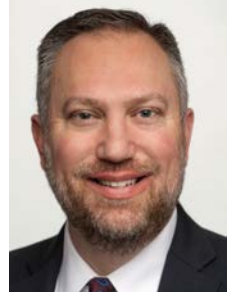

I look forward to standing with you.
May it be a year of blessing, health and contentment,

Rabbi David Kagan

President Greeting

Dear Friends,

As I write this letter in anticipation of the Yamim Noraim, I know this is a time to celebrate our accomplishments of the past year (150 years!), and also a time to reflect and assess the things we should have done but did not get a chance to do. And while there are things that we all regret, Judaism provides us with a path to use mistakes to grow forward. As the saying goes, it is Elul - be happy! And, when we hear the shofar blasts, let it awaken you. Cantor Ellen Dreskin once wrote "The shofar is narrow at the beginning and wide at the end. May we remember to begin with ourselves, and then open our hearts and our ears and our eyes to understand that we too can be bigger – we can be wider – and our smallest actions can make a huge difference in the world."

We strive to create a safe, vibrant and inclusive kehillah in which members feel strongly connected to each other and to our heritage. We are blessed to have wonderful staff, clergy and lay leaders who are committed to making CNS a community of connection and encounter. Whether you are a new member or have been here for many years, please reach out to someone you don't know and introduce yourself.

My one ask - "Help me" - by offering comments and suggestions on how our kehillah can best meet your needs as a member and as a Conservative Jew. If we are to celebrate our traditions, while working to continuously innovate, we need your feedback and your participation.

Thanks for supporting Congregation Neveh Shalom - spiritually, financially and with your time. I am proud and humbled to serve as your President and lead us as we embark on many wonderful journeys together. My family looks forward to spending time with each of you during these Days of Awe and throughout the year.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, the clergy and staff of CNS, along with my wife Allison and our daughters Eliana, Sarina and Adena - may you and your loved ones have a happy, healthy and fulfilling 5780!

L'Shana Tova Umetukah,

Annual Giving Campaign

“Charity outweighs all other commitments” – Talmud

Our shul is blessed with riches. While membership dues cover only about 45% of operating costs, we're here 100% of the time. If it's for Torah study, a Shabbat service, a bar or bat mitzvah, a condolence call, or quiet contemplation in the library with friends, you'll find it here.

So many members don't know exactly when or how they'll need the synagogue – but invariably they do, as life presents its challenges and opportunities. Your generosity helps fund many of the programs and educational opportunities that draw us all in. Your continued commitment to the Annual Giving Program sustains us for future generations. As you consider how to give, please join the Rabbi's Circle at the level that works for you. Make tzedakah part of your annual pledge to strengthen our kehillah. Any amount you are able to give, know that your contribution helps our kehillah grow and thrive.

Your Support this year will:

- Engage individuals and whole families at every level. Your gifts provided over $300,000 in dues reduction to support nearly 270 families in 2017-2018.
- Nurture young Jewish learners. Your AGP contributions provided for nearly $100,000 in tuition scholarships in our education programs.
- Deepen our connections through prayer, programming and Jewish learning with our visionary and dedicated clergy. Allow our inspirational rabbis and cantor to guide you through Koleinu Choir, Back To Shul, Soul Shabbat, Israel360, Talmud and Bible study, and Family Camp.

Every Gift Matters – thank you for your contribution.

Please make your gift today online: www.neveshalom.org/annual-giving or fill out the enclosed brochure. For more information please contact Dena Marshall, Development Director at dmarshall@nevehshalom.org or call 503-246-8831 x114. Todah rabah!

High Holy Day Alternative Experiences

Special 2nd Day Rosh Hashanah Learning Experiences

Tuesday, October 1

10:00am: Can We Really Change? And If So, How?

Rabbi David and Laura Kosak, Room 102

Each year, Jews use the High Holiday season to reflect on where we went wrong, what apologies are owed, and how we might do better in the coming year. That said, certain sorts of change are notoriously difficult to make. In this class, we will examine some concepts of change described by the influential 20th century hasidic work, The Netivot Shalom (Paths of Peace), and from contemporary psychologist Prochaska's "stages of change" model.

11:00am: For the Sake of Heaven

Amy Katz, Room 102

What is constructive conflict, and what can Jewish texts teach us about how to save our sanity and improve our relationships even (or especially) in today's political climate? In this interactive class we will consider how the rabbis of the Mishnah engaged in conflict, which conflicts they considered constructive and which they considered destructive. We'll reflect on how their methods can help us improve our relationships, become attuned listeners, and begin to truly understand other people's points of view.

12:00pm: Oseh Shalom—Creating Healing and Wholeness in our Lives

Mel Berwin, Room 102

Shalom means more than peace; it means wholeness or integration. The High Holidays often bring up for us the areas of our lives that are out of sync. We'll explore the Jewish wisdom, texts, and rituals that help us pay attention to those tensions and provide us tools to reconnect with our own sense of shalom.

Special Yom Kippur Alternative Torah Experience

Wednesday, October 9

10:00am: Entering the Holy of Holies: Storytelling and the High Priest

Brian Rohr, Room 112

Jewish storyteller Brian Rohr shares a dramatic story about the High Priest who, on this day of Yom Kippur only, entered the Holy of Holies, to stand before YHVH on behalf of the people. Brian's story, suitable for teens and adults, will set intention as we enter our own individual "holy of holies" on this most sacred of days.

Family Services

Children are welcome in EVERY service at Neveh Shalom. You are also invited to these services specifically designed for children and families.

- ❖ On Erev Rosh Hashanah and Second day, family services are led by Rabbi Eve Posen.
- ❖ On 1st Day Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, family services are led by Morah Leah Conley (Foundation School Director), Mel Berwin (Director of Congregational Education) and ALIYAH teachers.
- ❖ Attendees to any High Holy Day service must have a ticket to enter the building; including for family services, except for 2nd Day Rosh Hashanah where no ticket is needed.
- ❖ Parents must stay and participate with children in Family Services. We realize you may not be able to accompany each of your children to the age-appropriate service. We welcome younger or older siblings at every family service and we encourage you to attend the one that feels like the best fit for your family.
- ❖ Family Services have been scheduled to allow parents to attend the Rabbis' sermons in either of the main services.
- ❖ Family services provide a wonderful opportunity for you to daven, pray, with your children but do not have to replace adult prayer time. Educational Childcare is available for children ages 12 months to 2nd grade and we have a game room for children in grades 3-5 at the end of family services.
