CONGREGATION
NEVEH SHALOM

LEV SHALEM

We are Neveh Shalom. Together, we are community.

Leu Shalem

Living well doesn't happen automatically, although sometimes we get glimpses of moments and places where it seems effortless. I've only been to Italy once, in my early twenties, but it had a profound impact on me. If you want to discover a culture dedicated to the joys of family, food, and conversation, spend a week in Tuscany. Built deeply into the fabric of life—at least back in those days—was a clear message that work is not the purpose of our days: the joy, conversation, and connections we build at the dining table are a central piece of being human.

In Judaism, the Shabbat table fills a similar role, though the differences are just as important. Built into the culture of our Friday evening meal are experiences of holiness, gratitude, and a vibrant sense of unity and joy that occurs when we sing together.

Each of these vignettes reminds us that while living well doesn't happen automatically—someone has to make the pasta or polish the Shabbat candle sticks—cultures create ritualized forms that transmit lessons and values of what it means to live well. It is also true, however, that major shocks to a society sometimes unravel those forms, stripping away teachings that have almost invisibly been handed down over the generations. In the long traumatic aftermath of the Shoah, there are ways that we are still recovering the joy which resides at the heart of Judaism. Similarly, the can-do spirit and optimism of America, an optimism that essentially states life is good and can be made better, has withered away after many shocks. These days, many Americans primarily see where our nation has gone wrong.

That focus on the negative isn't inherently bad. One of Judaism's central concepts is that of teshuvah, or reflecting on the past to improve our future by repairing our actions and relationships. Assessing our errors and failures is most valuable, therefore, when its purpose is improving the present and the future.

This year, our collective efforts as a synagogue and kehillah kedoshah center on this positive effort at making our daily lives better by developing a lev shalem, a whole heart. Without a doubt, living well requires that we nurture our sense of whole-heartedness. Over the course of the year, this notion of living with and developing a lev shalem will filter into many of our social, educational, and spiritual offerings. Simultaneously, each of our teachers, clergy, staff, and congregants will have a slightly different understanding of what happens when we learn, love, and lead with whole hearts. Some of those differences can be accounted for by where we will focus our attention and inquiry; other differences will occur because as a society, Americans are engaging in a deep process of asking what it means to live well. As our congregation explores how and what it is to live with a lev shalem, there will be a very real process of learning through discovery. Na'aseh v'nishmah (we will live and learn): by committing ourselves to whole-heartedness, we will come to discover what it is. And that will indeed make for a better, sweeter year!

Shanah tovah u'metukah,

Rabbi David Kagan

Message From the President

SHANAH TOVAH, KEHILLAH!

As we approach the sacred and spiritually significant time of the High Holy Days, I am filled with a deep sense of gratitude and awe for the unity and strength of our community. The High Holy Days offer us a profound opportunity to reflect, to renew our spirits, and to strengthen our bonds as a kehillah (community).

During these days of introspection and prayer, let us come together with open hearts and minds, ready to embrace the transformative power of this season. It is a time to seek forgiveness and to grant it, to express gratitude for the blessings in our lives, and to strive for personal and communal growth.

I urge each one of you to fully engage in the High Holy Day services and programs we have thoughtfully prepared. Let the prayers, melodies, and teachings resonate deeply within your hearts, guiding you on your spiritual journey.

Moreover, let this season be a time of action and renewal. Embrace the mitzvot (commandments) that call upon us to care for one another, to support those in need, and to strengthen the bonds of our community. Reach out to those who may be feeling alone or distant, inviting them to join us in our celebrations.

Together, let us create an atmosphere of warmth, inclusivity, and love, welcoming all who come to our synagogue with open arms.

As we stand on the threshold of the High Holy Days, may we be filled with hope and purpose. May we find strength in our shared faith and commitment to one another.

L'shanah Tovah Tikatevu – May you be inscribed for a good year!

With warm regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Liza Milliner', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Liza Milliner, President

High Holy Day Experiences

2nd Day Rosh Hashanah Learning Experiences

Sunday, September 17 - Room 102

9:00am Rabbi David Kosak Living with the Heartbreak of Joy This year, our community will be exploring what it means to live, learn, and lead with a whole heart. In this session, we will look at texts that address how we can live joyously through life's ups and downs. As Rabbi Alan Lew once noted, "We are conditioned to choose pleasure and to reject pain, but the truth is, any moment of our life fully inhabited, any feeling fully felt, any immersion in the full depth of life, can be the source of deep joy."

10:00am Mel Berwin Entering this Year with Whole Hearts What if whole-heartedness doesn't mean feeling happy and complete all the time but embracing the bitter with the sweet? Susan Cain asks this question in her book, Bittersweet: "How are you supposed to integrate this bitter with your sweet, how are you supposed to feel whole again?" In our session, we will dive into texts both ancient and modern that help us open our hearts (and remain whole) in this new year.

11:00am Eden Ferede Harrell Community, Unity, and Diversity As modern Jews, we face a tension between wanting space where we feel connected to others like ourselves, but also where diversity is accepted and celebrated. How do we continue to identify as one people, within our polarized world, where there is so much disconnection across identities, races, and political divides? We'll look at texts that challenge and inspire us to find commonality and connection across our diverse Jewish and wider communities.

Two Special Yom Kippur Storytelling Experiences

Monday, September 25

Jewish storyteller Brian Rohr will share two different stories during Yom Kippur. Suitable for teens and adults.

10:00am: Entering the Holy of Holies: Storytelling and the High Priest

Room 101 A dramatic telling about the High Priest who, on this day of Yom Kippur only, entered the Holy of Holies, to stand before YHVH on behalf of the people.

4:30pm: The Blessing in Our Grief: Martyrology and Relating to the Divine

Sanctuary Delve into the difficult yet moving stories of our Jewish ancestors who risked and gave their lives in the practice of our faith. Who among us would do the same today?

High Holy Day Experiences

Hear the Shofar During the Month of Elul (Begins Aug 18) Mondays & Thursdays, August 18 - September 14

It's traditional to attend Morning Minyan in preparation for the High Holy Days and to hear the shofar being blown. For it to be a "kosher" hearing, you'll need to hear it in person. It's scheduled to be blown Mons. & Thus. during Elul (Minyan is evaluating an expansion of days, updated info will be on the website). Interested in blowing the shofar? Contact Priscilla: lamalo@comcast.net.

Heart & Soul: A Rock and Traditional Selichot Experience Saturday, September 9, 8:00pm: Wine & Cheese | 8:30pm: Service | Free

Join us for a musical Selichot celebration. Combine the traditional with the contemporary as Rabbi Kosak and Cantor Bitton integrate traditional High Holy Day melodies with pop and rock music. Begin your High Holy Day preparation with music and meaning.

Back to Shul 2023 Sunday, September 10, 12:30-2:30pm | In-Person, Holzman Plaza

Welcome the New Year with a celebration of community! Join our kehillah for music, food, and fun, a program fair to get more involved, and our ALIYAH meet-and-greet with teachers. Please RSVP at nevehshalom.org/b2s23; we want to count you in.

High Holy Days Food Drive: Operation Isaiah September 16-September 25

CNS is proud to once again hold our High Holy Days Food Drive to support Neighborhood House. Please bring your donations of nonperishable foods to the collection bins located inside the front gate. Collection will start at Rosh Hashanah and continue through Yom Kippur. This annual collection is in keeping with Isaiah's Yom Kippur directive against empty piety: don't merely fast, but feed the hungry, and clothe the naked!

High Holy Day Experiences

NEW THIS YEAR! Teen Rosh Hashanah Experience

Saturday, September 16, 12:00-1:00pm, Zidell Chapel

Together, Neveh teens (7th-12th grades) will mark the Jewish New Year with an upbeat and meaningful gathering on RH including games, meditation, and a creative process to take hold of the gift our ancestors offered: the challenge to cultivate peace in our lives and our community. Led by Sarah Rohr, Leora Lubliner, and Eden Ferede Harrell.

NEW THIS YEAR! Teachings From the Heart

Saturday, September 16, 7:15pm

As a seal upon your heart. There is an ancient teaching that the way you begin your year is a sign for how it will proceed. Let's begin our year with wholehearted community. Join your CNS clergy as we mark the flow of Rosh Hashanah from one day to the next. Together we'll share a nosh, l'chaim, and share a piece of Torah that is at the heart of our High Holy Day practice. Ma'ariv and Havdallah to follow.

Shanah: A Whole Family 2nd Day Rosh Hashanah Exploration

Sunday, Sept 17, 10:00am-12:30pm (Shofar and short service at 10am) | FREE

For families with kids ages 0-12. Join us on the second day of Rosh Hashanah as we celebrate the Birthday of the World! Hear the shofar, make and taste freshly pressed apple cider, experience Tashlich (symbolic reflection on our missteps over the past year), family-friendly hiking, and more fun! Bring your own container for cider if you'd like to take some home! Questions? Contact eposen@nevehshalom.org.

Tashlich

Sunday, September 17

This year Tashlich is performed on Sunday, September 17th. With resources provided on our website, you are invited to gather friends to create your own ritual community. There will be no communal Tashlich this year. Explore options at nevehshalom.org/hhd5784.

High Holy Day Experiences

Kever Avot Graveside Visit

Sunday, September 24, Neveh Zedek: 9:30am | Ahavai Shalom: 10:30am

The Jewish embrace of life is intertwined with respect for those who came before. In between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, there is a beautiful custom for families to gather at our cemeteries to recite special readings and hear the memorial prayers graveside. Depending on weather, we will gather outdoors or in the chapels.

NEW THIS YEAR! Kol Nidre for Teens

Sunday, September 24, 6:30pm, Zidell Chapel

Teens (7th-12th grades) are invited to a creative Kol Nidre experience with Sarah Rohr, Leora Lubliner, and Eden Ferede Harrell. Using traditional and contemporary ideas, we'll create a ritual to let go of what's not working in our lives and relish what is.

NEW THIS YEAR! Feldstein Library Yom Kippur Book Cart

During Yom Kippur, Monday, September 25

During Yom Kippur, Librarian Leora Troper will be providing inspirational and contemplative books to borrow and read throughout the day. Keep an eye out for the black library book cart. Also, check out the Feldstein library webpage for a list of books to help you prepare for the High Holy Days.

HIGH HOLY DAY VOLUNTEER & GREET

If you would like to do more than attend services this year, consider participating as a volunteer! Every year a dedicated group of members volunteer as ushers and greeters during each of the High Holy Day services. This group fulfills the mitzvah of hachnasat orchim (welcoming guests) and our kehillah appreciates this warm and helpful welcome! For information on becoming a volunteer, please contact hhd@nevehshalom.org.

Sukkot | Shemini Atzeret | Simchat Torah

Sukkot

September 29-October 6

Sukkot is the celebration of sacred time with its ties to nature, the Sukkah, and the successful conclusion of the High Holy Days season. There will be opportunities to gather with friends and community for food, prayer, study, conversation, and fun. For our Sukkot Services, please see page 10. For Sukkot events, please see page 18.

Hoshana Rabah

Friday, October 6

Hoshana Rabah comes toward the end of Sukkot. The ancient custom of beating willow branches at the conclusion of morning services pulls back the curtain on early Judaism and our land-based rituals. In a time of renewed environmental concerns, this unusual tradition has regained its relevance. Services are at 9:00am

Shemini Atzeret/Yizkor

Saturday, October 7

The strength of the Jewish family depends on an inter-generational covenant of mutual concern. One way we demonstrate that is at Yizkor Services, when we reflect on those who came before us. This is a powerful moment to replenish our memories and our love of those we have lost. Services are at 9:30am

Simchat Torah

October 7-8

Simchat Torah celebrates and marks the conclusion of the annual cycle of Torah readings and the beginning of a new cycle. Adult Erev Simchat Torah "5-D" Celebration (adult date night, with drinks, dancing, dinner, and davening) on Sat., Oct. 7, 6:30pm. Morning Service on Sun., Oct. 8, 9:30am (lunch to follow) and Simchat Torah Youth Fun on Sun., Oct. 8 at 10:30am (lunch to follow).

Happening in Our Sukkah

Wed., Sept. 27/Thu., Sept. 28 Sukkah Building & Decoration

Join the Men's Club and Sisterhood for our annual Sukkah build (Wed, 7:30am) and decoration (Thu, 10:30am) on the Holzman Plaza. The tear-down will be on Monday, October 9, 7:30-9am.

Sun., Oct. 1 Teen Service Project in the Sukkah, 2pm

Gather with other teens to benefit Community Warehouse. nevehshalom.org/hhdteen5784 AND Young Adult Happy Hour, 5pm CNS clergy and staff invite young adults to schmooze in the Sukkah while enjoying appetizers and drinks. RSVP by 9/27: nevehshalom.org/YAHH23

Mon., Oct. 2 Intergenerational Women's Program, 5:30pm

Women of all ages are invited to gather with Rabbi Eve Posen and others to learn in this friendly and empowering setting.

Tue., Oct. 3 Men's Club/Sisterhood Night in Sukkah, 6pm

Enjoy a dairy potluck together this Sukkot. Shake the lulav, eat, & be merry.

Wed., Oct. 4 ALIYAH K-6th Grade Family Dinner, 5:45pm

Join us for a warm and friendly dinner in the Sukkah! 3rd-6th grade forest walk at 6:15pm. RSVP required: nevehshalom.org/ALIYAHSukkot2023

Thu., Oct. 5 Wise Women, 12pm

Join other Wise Women for this fun social lunch in the Sukkah! AND Pizza in the Sukkah—Foundation School Families, 5pm Spend time with your child's teachers and other families! RSVP: crothstein@nevehshalom.org

Sukkah Open Hours

Sept. 30, 2-8pm | Oct. 2, 11am-3pm | Oct. 3, 11am-3pm | Oct. 4, 12-4pm | Oct. 6, 9am-5pm

Need a Lulav and Etrog for Sukkot?
